TESTIMONIALS FROM CLIENTS
WE HAVE NEVER MET FACE TO FACE

Eric Steel
Electrical Engineer/ President at New Wire Marine and Rocker Switch Pros
South Carolina, USA

"We've used Living Dreams for over 4 years now on many web development projects. After the first couple successful small projects, we engaged them for two full-scale E-commerce site designs. One of which was a very complex rendering engine that was many months in development.

We were impressed by Living Dreams' top developer talent, attention to detail, response time and really attentive project management. They really cared about the result, and took the time to understand our business needs, not just the technical details of web design.

Over the past few years the folks at Living Dreams have become an integral part of our team, acting as an outsourced Web Development department. They have offered many valuable technical recommendations kept me out of loads of trouble. We will continue to contract them for ongoing maintenance between major projects."

Project:
Development of a complex visual rendering engine connected with Woo-commerce, Stripe payment gateway and other external API's. Features include automated inventory control and automated order processing with advance back-end features. Regular maintenances and feature improvements are part of the ongoing contract.

"Nimesha from Living Dreams was outstanding to deal with. I asked her to move my site that has many plug-ins for my membership subscription business from one site to another. At every stage she was clear with me, her communication was outstanding and her follow up was considerate and professional. Absolutely no hesitation in recommending her especially in a world where freelancers are comparably unreliable and lack even the most basic of communication. I can't wait to rehire Nimesha, it will be in a heartbeat."

Penny Thornton
UK

Penny Thornton is a world-renowned astrologer and formerly a personal astrologer to Diana, Princess of Wales. Known for her approachable advice about creating good relationships in the workplace, Thornton conducts consultations and prepares personal reports for clients all over the world. Originally trained as a ballet dancer with the Royal Ballet School, she has also written for magazines in Australia, the UK, and Poland. She is the author of several books on astrology with a special emphasis on relationships.

"Nimesha is a top professional, with a very high skill level and I would recommend her to anyone/everyone. She has done, and continues to do, a fantastic job for us at Astrolutely.

We gave Nimesha and her team at Living Dreams the extremely challenging task of building an all-new website from scratch to replace our existing website, an 18 year old much cherished relic. No easy feat, considering that the existing website already receives in excess of one Million annual visitors. Whenever you do a project of this size, scale and scope, there will inevitably be a few glitches, however, Nimesha has worked diligently to rectify each situation as they have appeared.
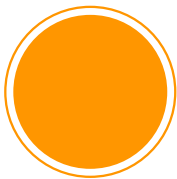

We are continuing to work with Nimesha, so if you notice anything that isn't correct on Astrolutely feel free to scroll down to the bottom of any page, click on the link to Living Dreams and let her know.

We are 100% satisfied with Living Dreams Web Development Solutions!"

Project:
Redesign https://astrolutely.com and improve e-commerce functionalities.

Los Angeles, USA

Vladimir Cuk is an American motion-picture performer, athlete and Internet entrepreneur. In entertainment industry, known for co-starring roles in Walt Disney Pictures comedies The Sixth Man and Celtic Pride, James Bond video games and over 2 dozen TV commercials.

"We have been working with Living Dreams Web Development Solutions for three years now and they have been excellent. Living Dreams Web Development Solutions offers not just outstanding website software development solutions in variety of technologies that we need, but project management services as well. This makes large volume of work possible as we send e-mail to one person and she manages the rest on her end and gets it done. They are very detailed oriented and easy to work with. We have been very happy with entire experience and will continue to use their services."

Damian Turco

Attorney and Executive Director
Massachusetts, USA

"Nimesha from Living Dreams has been AWESOME to work with on a handful of projects. I've tried a few different programmers over the years and I can say she has been the best. She's also done some pretty advanced programming, significantly upgrading the capabilities of both my law firm's web site and the site of a non profit for which I'm the executive director. She's pleasant, capable, and responsive. I highly recommend Nimesha!"

David & Steve Gordon
Founders of Sequoia Records, Award-Winning Producers and Composers.
USA

"The team at Living Dreams has performed excellent work for Sequoia Records since February 2015 and continuing. During Living Dreams work with us I have interacted with them frequently and depend on them with confidence. I appreciate their can-do attitude, their strong organizational skills and their ability to get the job done with grace under pressure.

Living Dreams have helped us plan and implement our new LightOfMind e-commerce website, incorporating new features, debugging, and implementing effective solutions for multiple challenges.

In addition, they have provided valuable technical support to the rest of our website production team.

The Living Dreams team are skilled in a wide range of website and E-commerce technologies and platforms. For our projects, their work included PHP, HTML, CSS, Wordpress, Woo-commerce, Javascript, and Jquery.

In closing, let me say I have no hesitation in recommending Living Dreams for any projects they choose to pursue. I feel confident they would be a strong and valuable asset to your organization."

TOOLS AND TECHNOLOGIES

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW TO GET STARTED

So, you have finally decided that your business needs a website. Or perhaps, you want your already existing website to be upgraded.

We will provide you a clear plan that shows you exactly how little effort and money you can spend on this new adventure that will advance your business. The power to make it a success lies within you. As a beginner, you might not be sure about what is required for the development of a website. However, you should understand that for the best website, you have to be very patient and detailed-oriented. The website development process is gradual, and a great website is not developed overnight.

We are readily available to work on your website. We do this on a daily basis. As our client, you need to prepare yourself to walk through this journey with us. However, while we may not "know it all," we have a wealth of experience, and we always learn and advance our own skills as we work with new clients. You need to consider what is most important for your website. Think of this as preparing a shopping list before you head to the store. As much as we are responsible enough to ascertain that we deliver your interests, you deserve a website that is worth every bit of your money. Being prepared gives you a chance to ensure that you get your job done to satisfaction.

It's important that you are as prepared as possible before you begin the process. You can save a lot of time and money when you know what you are looking for. Take a scenario that you approached us wanting a website. We will tell you, "Yes, we can make it happen". Won't you ask us "How that will happen?" knowing we are not aware of what you are into as a business? Being prepared will provide us with an easy task designing and creating your website, not leaving out important information that you need on the site. Both of us will end up with happy results.

We will ask you many questions as we learn about what your needs are. This is the best way for us to provide exactly what you need. It is our responsibility to ask the questions, and yours to provide the answers. When you are prepared and know what you are looking for, it makes the process quite simple. Developing a website is a collaborative effort, between both parties.

General Questions We May Ask You (mostly applicable to non tech savvy clients)

1. Who are your customers/audiences?
2. Who are your competitors?
3. What will you provide to be included on your website (refer options below)?

Concept or layout

Information (text) and content (Photos, videos and etc)

Logo

Other

Extract content from the current site

4. How much information that needs to appear on your web page is already prepared (refer options below)?

COMPLETE
no revisions necessary

ALMOST COMPLETE few revisions left, but won't hold up process

WORK IN PROGRESS
will be ready in time for final revisions

EARLY STAGES
might delay process, but that's okay

NOT READY
need help

5. What colours would you like us to use to create your website?
6. List some websites/e-commerce sites that have inspired you.
7. Do you have a logo?
8. Have you purchased your domain or are you planning to replace the current site in the existing domain?
9. Do you have a specific hosting provider?
10. How many products do you intend to put on the site initially?
11. What are the product variations (example: small, medium, and large)?
12. How do you want to calculate shipping charges?   Flat rate or based on the weight and delivery destination?
13. Who is your shipping provider?
14. Do you have product names, product images, product descriptions, weight, and shipping information ready to get started?
15. What is the payment gateway you want to use on the site?

ARE YOU A DIGITAL AGENCY LOOKING FOR A RELIABLE TECHNOLOGY PARTNER?

RANGE OF SERVICES WE OFFER FOR DIGITAL AGENCIES

We offer services to dozens of web and software development companies across the globe. We can work with your company on a permanent or as-needed basis, and we can also provide fixed-estimates for projects.
Most the time, our cooperate clients (other web/software development companies) do all the coffee chats, requirement clarifications, scope documentation, wireframe designing and interface designing.
Once the documentation is ready, wireframes, designs and functional specifications are in place, the project is ready for our work. At that point, we ask questions and provide recommendations to fine tune everything so there will be no gaps in the scope. Finally, we provide development time frames and cost estimates.

We have become a first-rate web development service partner for many digital agencies. We primarily serve digital agencies who offer digital marketing and web design services. The services they offer include content writing, SEO, SEM, conversion rate optimization, strategic planning, project management, online advertising, lead generation, and web design.

There are certain projects that may require our programming skills. For example, a client may be trying to develop a portfolio-style website for a branding agency. There are several steps to the process. First, the wireframes must be in place and approved by the end client. Next, the branding guidelines and the functional specifications are determined. Finally, the in-house designer gets the design done as per the branding guidelines and the wireframes. This is the point where clients typically come to us to finish everything up.

Our job is to implement the design into a Wordpress theme that the client has chosen. The specified design must be implemented on Wordpress in a way that the client can manage the content easily and seamlessly. There are times when there are hard-coded elements that make content management and updating more challenging, but we specialize in customizing Wordpress themes according to industry standards, while preserving the content management functionality. We also work to ensure updatability of the site.

We have had many clients who first opted to use various web designers (for low cost) and have ended up with an unsatisfactory product. This is probably because the complexity and the gravity of the scope have been underestimated due to lack of analytical skills and experience.

Here are some examples of such projects:

A website has been developed which functions perfectly on desktop screens but doesn't work well on mobile devices. The client needs help to resolve this.

A website has been developed based on a Wordpress theme, but client says he cannot manage the content and theme options are not working. Client needs help preserving the design, functions and still get the CMS functioning as original. The client needs help to resolve the issue.

An outdated Wordpress website needed to be updated to the latest version but when it is updated, the site crashes. There are 40+ plugins which are conflicting and the client is unable to identify what causes the issue. The client needs help to resolve the issue.

A client has developed an e-commerce website listing more than 250 products, including worldwide shipping options. The client wants to implement functionality to the website allowing orders to be automatically sent to the closest warehouse (out of 20 warehouses around the world). The buyer's location needs to be identified, and a delivery notice needs to be automatically sent informing the buyer from where the product will be dispatched and when to expect it. The client needs help to implement this feature.

OUR CUSTOMER SERVICE STRENGTHS

We communicate clearly with our corporate clients, throughout the completion of any project. We believe in high-quality customer service. When our clients grow, we grow.

Usually the projects we get from other web/software development companies are partly or nearly completed projects. We avoid verbal discussions to make sure everything is well-clarified and there are no surprises or misunderstandings. This also helps all parties to keep a clear record of the requirements discussed. We use project management tools or email for all communications.

We keep all intermediate clients work confidential, and do not share any work either publicly or privately with other clients, without express written permission. We claim development credit for projects we deliver to end clients. We only communicate with the end client upon specific request.

We always deliver on time, and within the agreed budget. Adjustments may be agreed upon along the way, should the scope or specifications of the project

TESTIMONIALS FROM SATISFIED COOPERATE CLIENTS

Alessandro Russo
Founder & Digital Architect at WebYourMind LTD
Ireland

"Nimesha and her team took care of implementing our new portal, starting from provided XD Design. She is a great professional, and ensured that any flaws in the requirements were thoroughly clarified (via a collaborative analysis document that was shared with us upfront) before providing her final quote. She delivered up to our expectations and addressed any issue that we identified on the website. I am overall happy with results delivered and I recommend Nimesha and her team to anyone that is looking for an experienced team to implement quality solutions. Highly recommended!"
